

PROJECT REPORT

SDG Selected by Me: 13 – Climate Action

Mission Statement/ Objective of the Project: The objective is to aware and educate people about the ways we all can together or individually take a climate action and get a better climate for us and our future generation.

Introduction and Purpose: This project is about one of the Sustainable development Goals by the United Nations which is climate action. This project explains what basically climate action is and how can we be a part of it. The purpose I chose this out of other SDGs is because saving our climate is one of our utmost responsibilities and if we don't save our climate today it will harm us a lot.

Materials and Methods: I created this project in a form of PowerPoint Presentation and used some sources on digital platforms to get some more details.

Observations: Some observations were that we when get aware about it think we cant do anything for saving our environment, but while making and when I was listing the methods we as individuals can do I realised that there are many ways to protect our climate and easy things that we can do.

Conclusion: I conclude that we all can do anything, and we will do all things needed to save our climate for us and future generation.

Acknowledgement: I am grateful to get a source given by our teacher that helped me a lot during this project. Source used: <https://asiasociety.org/education/projects-organized-un-sustainable-development-goal>
